Haiti - The Fish Pond

An Update - Mainland Unrest Causes Delay:

The news is that the fish may finally be picked up today from the mainland. The delay is due to the riots there that make it too dangerous. However, they have lined up a boat, some volunteers, a police officer, the appropriate bags to carry the fish and the equipment to put oxygen into the bag to safely transport the fish. Hopefully the mainland will be peaceful for a few hours so the mission can be completed!
Thanks Lynda for the update!

Using E-Transfers:

Using E-Transfers to Pay Your RCO Invoices

1. Sign in to your online banking app.
2. Go to Interac e-Transfers.
3. The first time you're sending an e-transfer to RCO you'll need to set up the Club as a new recipient.
 - a. Name: whatever you like, e.g. Rotary Club of Orangeville or RCO or Rotary Orangeville
 - b. E-mail: rotarycluboforangeville@gmail.com

For subsequent e-transfers to RCO, you'll be able to choose the Club from your Recipient drop-down list.

4. You'll enter the amount of the e-transfer and the account you wish to debit.
5. If you're able to enter a message, enter your name and what you're paying, e.g. Q2 quarterly dues for Ingrid.
6. Then submit the e-transfer. No security question and answer is needed because the Rotary Club of Orangeville has been registered for autodeposit at Scotiabank. This means the money will be deposited automatically into the RCO bank account as soon as you send the e-transfer. The e-transfer can't be cancelled but if an error has been made you can contact the Club Treasurer, who will make it right!
