

Remembrance Day:

A perfect poem for Remembrance Day 2020 during these challenging, COVID-19 times. Thanks to IODE Member, and Pastor Barbara Moulton of The Well Sanctuary, for permission to share her poem.

| 1. No large crowds will gather,
To remember this year.
The last post will sound,
With few present to hear. | 2. The wreaths will be laid.
The words will be read.
"They shall not grow old."
We will honour the dead. |
| 3. A few will be chosen,
To complete these proud tasks
They will stand with their comrades,
Each distanced and masked. | 4. For those who must fall back,
In a change from the past,
Let us mindfully pause.
Bring our day to half mast. |

Remembrance Day 2020
By Barbara Moulton

5. As we watch from afar,
May it serve to recall.
The ones who were distant,
When they sacrificed all.
